DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 5/3/2004 is noted. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because Figure 6A does not include reference number 14 referred to on page 13 of the specification.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brooks (2,054,781). Brooks discloses an artificial maxillary molar unit where the occlusal surface has a ridge with a sharp edge aligning along a line corresponding to a ridge of a cusp on a natural molar. The ridge has opposite sides that are each concave and the inclination is gradually more gentle from the occlusal surface towards the root (Figs. 4-5, #'s 30 and 58). The cheek and tongue side surface of the molar unit are chamfered (Fig. 6, # 56) and there are a plurality of molar units that are connectably formed within a common plate (Fig. 1, #12).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brooks in view of Zuccoli (2,669,779). Brooks discloses the claimed invention with the exception of the molar having a hollow form on the opposite side of the occlusal surface. Zuccoli discloses a dental molar unit with a hollow impression the side opposite the occlusal surface (Fig. 1, #7). Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the molar unit of Brooks with a hollow surface, as taught by Zuccoli, so that the molar unit could be removed from the mouth independently of the artificial molar plate.

Claims 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brooks in view of Callne (5,221,203). Brooks discloses the claimed invention with the exception of an alignment instrument where an impression of the maxillary and mandibular occlusal surfaces of the artificial molar units are provided on opposite surfaces of the alignment instrument. Callne discloses a dental alignment instrument where the maxillary and mandibular molar unit impression casts are positioned on opposite surfaces of the alignment instrument. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, to provide an alignment instrument for making the artificial molar units of Brooks, as taught by Callne, so that the occlusal surfaces of the maxillary and mandibular molar units can be precisely aligned. Furthermore, it is well known in the art of artificial molar unit processing to utilize an alignment instrument correctly positioning maxillary and mandibular artificial units.
